Being present is everyone's job. This holistic retreat for healthcare professionals provides all disciplines, caregivers and volunteers a practical approach for reducing distress in the clients they serve. Building on the technique of Comfort Touch® this hands-on program reviews strategies that have benefited clients of mental health services, palliative care programs, hospices and other clinical arenas. This creative process is designed to explore the relevance of human touch to all scopes of practice and roles. You will walk away feeling cared for and revitalized in your commitment to health and healing.

Patrick Davis, MA, PCC

Patrick Davis is a consultant and coach to leaders committed to the transformation of 21st century healthcare. Patrick brings over 25 years of experience as an educator for conferences, colleges and leadership development programs. By developing high performing teams across complex health systems he has enabled dramatic culture change within hospitals, mental health programs, hospices, and across the continuum of senior care. Beginning in healthcare as an oncology and hospice chaplain, his commitment to holistic health led him to develop programs on managing stress, interdisciplinary communication, grief and hands-on healing methods. Patrick holds a Master's in Adult Education and he has achieved national certifications in both coaching and bodywork. Through both his private integrative health practice and inspiring educational programs he is committed to bringing human touch back to health care.
